Classical fine dining and silver service

Representing Scotland at its best – its heritage, history and beauty – The Strathearn experience is like going to the theatre and being entertained. One of the last bastions of first-class Highland dining, The Strathearn's traditional walnut gueridon trolleys, silver cloches and butler trays deliver the touch of a bygone era, while a setting of elegant grandeur reflects the essence of Gleneagles glamour.

Two Michelin-starred dining experience

Simply the best restaurant in Scotland, and the only one in the country to hold two Michelin stars. Andrew Fairlie is one of Britain's most celebrated chefs, and his exquisite restaurant is a sumptuous setting for a meal that will live long in the memory, combining the very best in French and Scottish cooking. Andrew's signature dish is the smoked lobster, its intense smokiness coming from a five-hour infusion over whisky barrel chips.

Chef's Favourites

Home-smoked Scottish lobster with Krug Grande Cuvée

Smoked Lobster has been on my menu for many years – a dish inspired by my time with Michel Guérard. It showcases the very best of Scottish shellfish, and Krug Grande Cuvée has everything to partner it – great structure and acidity; complex citrus notes and flavours of butter and fresh-baking. I have always also felt a real affinity between the way Krug approach their craftsmanship and how I approach my own.

Perthshire Roe Deer with Nuits-Saint-Georges

We are blessed with a fabulous supply of game on our doorstep, and I love the Roe Deer for its refined eating quality - beautifully lean, and not overly “gamey”. This is brilliantly matched by the balance of power and finesse of Nuits-Saint-George, from the likes of Domaine Henri Gouges. The red fruits characteristics and woodland flavours develop as the Burgundy matures, making a spectacular partner to this wonderful deer.

Freshly Shaved White Truffle with Barbaresco

Frequently, things that grow together taste great together. White truffles from Piemonte partnered with Barbaresco – from a master wine maker like Angelo Gaja – is simply a match made in heaven.

Here amid our 850 acre estate within a stunning Perthshire backdrop - ideal for your wedding photography - our attentive staff are always there to ensure that your day is as brilliantly organised as it is special.

Whether it's the little details such as floral arrangements or the larger decisions over choice of room, venue and wedding menus, we can take care of every aspect leaving you free to enjoy your day to the full.

Behind the effortless flow of a Gleneagles wedding is a whole flurry of activity that ensures your big day is as perfect as you had always dreamed.

From the early stages of planning to the event itself, you'll find our staff able to offer invaluable advice on the smooth running of the whole occasion. We even provide a wedding check list and provide some tips on wedding etiquette.

We can organise your marriage venue within the hotel, in a suite or private room, or nearby in a cathedral or a small local village church. We take care of catering, flowers, transport (from chauffeur transfers to wedding cars), photography, entertainment and, of course, we offer the bride and groom a beautiful bedroom for changing.

At Gleneagles, we take care of every little detail but, most of all, we take care of you.

"As we were having a Civil Ceremony, it was important to us that the venue and the ceremony room had the "wow" factor and was extra special. The Glendevon room, in our eyes was the perfect room with the amazing views it offers. As we are real "Foodies" the catering aspect was also of high importance as we really wanted to spoil our guests and give them a gastronomic experience! Other than the outstanding beauty of the resort, the one thing that confirmed to us that this had to be our wedding venue, was the staff and service they provide. Having visited the hotel on special occasions, we have always been blown away with the exceptional standard but also the warmth and "nothing is too much trouble" attitude.

"Our best parts of the wedding day was the ceremony in the beautiful Glendevon room, and seeing the stunning ballroom lit up for the very first time as we were piped into the wedding breakfast - this was a truly amazing experience! Also the wedding breakfast itself and our intricate six course menu had to be the highlight of the day in everyone's eyes.

"Normally it is custom after a wedding, for the Bride and Groom to send "thank you" cards to the guests. Since the wedding, we have been overwhelmed by the number of cards we have received from guests thanking us for giving them the opportunity to experience such a wonderful hotel and resort.

"The whole day was a not just a wedding, but an experience, and one that everyone will still be talking about in years to come! Thank you Gleneagles!"

Wedding Anniversary Celebrations

If you're marking an anniversary, Gleneagles Hotel, is an ideal Perthshire venue. Whether you're celebrating as a couple or inviting a host of family and friends for a larger party, we can create the perfect occasion for you.

Bring this grand room to life - perhaps with silver coloured decorations for a 25th anniversary, or by recreating the flowers from your wedding bouquet. We can help recreate your wedding menu with a modern Scottish twist, or source a particular wine that you drank on the special day.

Our Spirit Suites are luxurious rooms if you crave peace and solitude. For a 50th anniversary, it's got to be gold. Johnnie Walker Gold is devoted to the art of celebration - and so is Suite 18. To take the pleasure up a level, treat yourself to the ultimate in-room indulgence: a three-tier platter of hand-made chocolates, fresh seasonal fruits and decadent marshmallows. Best enjoyed with a celebratory glass of frozen Gold Label.

Our in-house Events team will re-ignite wedding memories and help to create a rich collection of new ones.

"Thank you very much for a fabulous day on Saturday for our silver wedding party. Celebrating at Gleneagles was amazing experience. Thank you Lynne, for making all the planning stress-free - the day went like clockwork!

"All our guests commented on how brilliant the staff were, - the guys at the shooting lodge, the girls at the nail bar and the waiting staff at dinner - each one of them very friendly and helpful. The meal was delicious too. We look forward to our next visit!"

History

When the Gleneagles® Hotel opened in 1924 it was described as 'a Riviera in the Highlands' and 'the eighth wonder of the world'. Today, this luxury hotel remains dedicated to excellence, just as it was in its earliest days when "the avowed intention of the management is to create happiness".

The hotel was built by the former Caledonian Railway Company, with its own railway station. The Gleneagles Hotel is now owned by Diageo plc.

By the 1930s, golf and hotels were the height of fashion. Then as now, the Gleneagles Hotel was the glorious playground for people dedicated to leisure and pleasure in the most luxurious surroundings.

In the 1950s, Gleneagles was a fixed part of high society's calendar - after the London "season" it was yachting at Cowes, polo at Deauville and golf and grouse shooting at Gleneagles.

Until 1982, the hotel only opened during the summer months. Between 1982-86 more than £11 million was spent on a total renovation and restoration and the elegance and traditions of Gleneagles can now be enjoyed all year round. Total capital investment since 1982 is more than £46 million.

In 1986, Gleneagles was awarded the Automobile Association's supreme accolade of Five Red Stars, which it has retained every year. Since 1982, it has won more than 40 awards from the travel, catering and associated industries.
